HANNA AT WORK.

The Republican Committee Preparing for Work.

Active Operations Will Be Commenced in a Very Few Days.

Story of Platt's Ambition to be Governor Laughed Of Lightly.

New York, Aug. 3. Campaign work was begun at the Republican national headquarters to-day. Mark Hanna was on hand early and was soon joined by A. B. Scott, of West Virginia, and Powell Clayton, of Arkansas, members of the executive committee.

By the end of the week the committee will be ready to send out campaign literature.

Mr. Hanna did not care to be interviewed in regard to the conference with Thomas C. Platt, Charles W. Hackett and Edward Lauterbach on Saturday. He would only say that he had nothing to do with factional fights but expected all Republicans in this State to do their share of the work.

He says he will accept advice and help from both factions.

At the Republican State headquarters Chairman Hackett and all the other politicians laughed at the story started yesterday that Mr. Platt is a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination.

The Republican county committee will probably hold a big ratification meeting at Carnegie Hall. Some of the best speakers in the party, among them Thos. B. Reed, will address the meeting.

At the St. John Democratic and silver headquarters it was said today that no important campaign work would be done until August 11, when the Democratic national committee will meet in this city and prepare the plan of campaign.

ATLANTIC CITY DISASTER.

Inquest Into the Cause Begun on Monday—Testimony Concerning Signals.

Atlantic City, N. J. Aug. 3. At the inquest into the recent railroad accident, after recess, O. T. Deice, superintendent of the Reading railroad, explained the workings of the tower. Nicholas Long was the operator and was relieved by George Hauser, night operator, at 6 40 p. m. Hauser had been in the employ of the company since July 1 of the present year. No other person has any business in the tower but the operator, except the men who may go there to make repairs. Mr. Deice pointed out the positions of the signal poles and indicators on the track which ring an electric bell in the tower. The express which was in collision left Camden that Thursday afternoon at 5 52½, according to the train despatcher's time sheet, and passed Pleasantville, four miles from the scene of the accident, at 6 45, a minute behind time.

Mr. Deice on arrival at the scene of the wreck found the signals set at their normal position, that is the distant signal at "caution" and home signal at "danger." The engineer approaching the cautionary signals should be prepared to stop when he reaches the home signal. Mr. Deice submitted Operator Hauser's train sheet for the evening of July 30. Hauser had so far filled out his sheet as to put the time of the express in passing there at 6.48. Mr. Deice thought this must be an error as the train could not have made that time from Pleasantville.

Bridgton In Mourning.

Bridgton, N. J., Aug 3. Eight more victims of the Atlantic City railroad accident were consigned to the tomb here to-day. All business places were closed at noon and all public buildings and business houses were draped, giving the city a sombre appearance. There will be several funerals to-morrow.

AT FRYEBURG.

The Second Week of Chautauqua Opened Auspiciously.

Fryeburg, Me., Aug. 3. The second week of Chautauqua work opened bright and clear after the welcome rain of yesterday. Everything moves like clockwork. The management under the lead of Rev. Dr. Lindsay know their work and the machinery moves without chafing or friction. New arrivals come on every train and the horse railway is a boon to Chautauquans. Miss Charlotte T. Sibley arrived today and gave her first round table talk upon "Children and School Life in the Orient."

Her hearers were charmed by the easy and eloquent flow of her story and incident of life in the East. This evening F. R. Roberts lectured upon Australia and it was given to a deeply interested audience.

A FEW DAYS OF QUIET.

Mr. McKinley Thinking Over Letter of Acceptance.

It Will Not be Ready for Publication for Three or Four Weeks.

Ex-Senator Bruce Predicts Victory for Republicans in South.

Canton, O., Aug. 3. Major McKinley has had a few days of quiet and he is turning over in his mind the points he thinks of discussing in his letter of acceptance. He will not aim to have the letter ready for publication for three or four weeks.

Ex-Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, called on Major McKinley today.

He is familiar with the situation throughout and thinks Major McKinley will carry Virginia, North Carolina and Kentucky.

Said he: "The Democratic politician in the Southern states has until recently been able to keep the South solid. Hereafter the progressive elements of the South will take such action as will advance the material prosperity of that section.

"They want a protective tariff that will build up that section. They also want sound money instead of depreciated silver dollars. The colored voters of the country, both North and South, are enthusiastically supporting Major McKinley."

Hindoo Juggler Jailed.

The Hindoo juggler, Ashmael, with Barnum & Bailey's circus, who stabbed another Hindoo Sunday, was before the Municipal Court yesterday. It seems that Ashmael, who is a Mohammedan, had been twitted by a Buddhist with having eaten pork and as he could not stand such insinuations he proceeded to put a knife into the Buddhist's arm. The sentence of the court was three months in jail and Ashmael is now behind the bars, a circumstance which will save his life.

It seems that there is sort of a vendetta among the Hindoos whom Ashmael wronged by his knife thrust and they are bound to avenge that wrong by taking Ashmael's life. The manager, who is under bonds to return Ashmael to his own land at the close of the circus season, was afraid that Ashmael would be made way with and the sentence of 3 months in jail was not objected to by him as it will keep Ashmael out of harm's way.

At the end of that time the manager will come here after his Hindoo charge. He says that Ashmael is the finest juggler in the world. He will be missed in the Hindoo show but there was no way out of it.

Cycling Notes.

The Spindle City Club of Wheelmen, of Lowell, Mass., had great success with its first meeting Saturday afternoon on the fair grounds. There was an attendance of over 2,000, and the races were conducted in an excellent manner. H. E. Dahlberg, of Lowell, formerly of Bangor, won three of the principal prizes in the mile, open and half-mile handicaps.

In Louisville this week will be held the national meet of the League of American Wheelmen—a meet which will make and break champions in the racing world, and a meet which is fraught with the greatest of interest and pleasure to all who participate, while it can also be said that the interest extends even further than that. Here will be held the greatest racing of the year, and for the only time this season can the champions of the amateur and professional classes ride together for the championship. The question as to who is the best man on the track is a much mooted one. The real fight for supremacy will come between Bald, Cooper, Sanger and Gardiner, providing the four men are in the best of condition. Beside the racing features of the meet there will be tours to the several points of interest in and around Louisville, to Lexington and to Mammoth cave.

Carpets.

Some things can be pretty well fore-known. For instance, woolen carpets will cost more next season than to-day's normal prices.

Carpet needers may ponder on these statements; they are facts, or at least accepted facts of the trade.

But with scant regard for markets, present or future, we've special values for prompt comers.

So whether the carpet is needed now or later it's a money making move to buy now.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task Lassitude almost overcomes her Nervousness and sleeplessness and pain harass her and life seems hardly worth the living

That her sufferings are due solely to her own fault seldom occurs to her but often it is so Health, strength and vigorous vitality are hers if she will but ask and reach for them. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made for her Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her The former is for the ills distinctly feminine, the latter for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment The "Favorite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine It forces out all impurities strengthens the tissues, allays inflammation The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite good, digestion promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with sound flesh and brings back the glow of girlhood. Best of all, these remedies there is no need of examinations" and local treatment so abhorrent to every modest woman.

Thousands of grateful women have written letters like this

Samantha M Cranmer of Box 34, ... writes "It is with pleasure I write these few lines in favor of Dr Pierce's Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription'—the medicines which have done me so much good. I was completely run down and carried myself around ... getting weaker and worse ... until I lost all hope of ever getting better I took four bottles of each of them and I am now perfectly well."

Respectfully yours

ON VERGE OF STARVATION.

Merchants Refuse Credit to Idle Iron Miners.

County Treasury Depleted and Commissioners Powerless.

New York, Aug 3 A special from Milwaukee, Wis, says A desperate state of affairs exists on the Gogebic Ridge in Northern Michigan, where 8,000 iron miners were once employed at an average of $1 75 a day, now only 1 000 have employment at $1 a day and the unemployed find themselves on the verge of starvation

All the mines except two have shut down, and some of them have withdrawn their pumps Merchants have refused credit to the unemployed, and before winter thousands will lack food to keep from starvation

Those who are still employed have their salaries drawn by the merchants with whom they deal, who after deducting a share of the debt, turn the balance over Under this system the people are almost penniless most of the time Many of the mining companies have allowed the idle miners to plant potatoes on the spare lands, but the army worm now swarms in that part of the State, and is destroying the crops No relief can be expected from Gogebic county because the treasury is depleted All the tax payers have organized and refused to pay taxes and consequently the commissioners are without funds

Unless outside assistance comes there will be starving families on the range

Annual Report of American Board in Japan

Boston Aug 3—The annual report of the American Board's mission cooperating with the Kumai churches of Japan has been received It says that the Ito cabinet still remains in power but has yielded to the inevitable and taken a long step in the direction of party government by forming an open alliance with the Liberals and admitting to its membership Count Itagaki the head of that party He becomes minister of home affairs and several of his ablest lieutenants secure other high positions. One of them Mr T Hoshi has been appointed minister plenipotentiary to the United States Much more cordial relations apparently have been established between Japan and Russia than seemed possible a year ago. The trial by court martial of Minister Miura and others implicated in the assassination of the queen of Korea resulted through insufficient evidence in acquittal and restoration to former rank but left no doubt in most minds as to their unjustifiable participation in that unhappy event Japan is no longer sole arbiter of Korea's destiny Formosa has been subjugated and its fifteen thousand square miles brought under strict Japanese dominion Treaties with Italy, Brazil Russia Germany Denmark Sweden and Norway have been revised Several new consulates opened, and an up to date civil code been made the law of the land As one result of the institution of Formosa a new department, that of colonization has been added to the government its ministers being given a seat in the cabinet

Several bold writers have fearlessly entered the field of historical criticism and called in question the truth of some cherished traditions Marquis Saionji the present minister of education, is far more correct and liberal in his views of the needed moral training for Japanese students than his predecessor and still further concessions in the line of what Christianity stands for are confidently expected

But by far the greatest change of the year is seen in the commercial world Not less than $400,000,000 of Japanese money has gone into or been pledged to new projects or enlarged old enterprises $51 483 500 in the single month of March

The total exports and imports during 1895 amounted to over $265 000 000, as against $234 000 000 the year before and $48 000 000 in 1875 There are now 20 clock two watch and several bicycle factories while silk and cotton mills may be counted by the score and many new enterprises are soon to be undertaken All this commercial activity deeply affects the churches Not less than a dozen men connected with the Kumai body have left the ministry actual or prospective during the past two years, and gone into business Some of these have been led by non success in evangelistic labors some by pecuniary necessity and the attractions of a commercial career and some by a high resolve to aid financially work churches in their efforts to become self supporting and also to reform the business world according to Christian conceptions. There has been an excessive movement away from the pulpit and in too many cases away from the pews

But the low water mark of this tidal ebb seems to have been reached One or two evangelists are about ready to return to their old time form of service and there has been during recent months a steady gain in attendance and membership at various places

Nearly all the stations report a slight gain in Sabbath school attendance and increased interest especially this spring in Bible study Christian Endeavor work appears to remain at a standstill but Christian Endeavor methods have been adopted by several churches notably in the Okayama region and with good results. The number of mission tries in the field is 52 a smaller number than at any time during the past ten years

The statistics show that there are 102 Kumai churches having 72 pastors and 9863 members of whom 266 were added during the last year on confession of their faith There are 4302 members of the Sunday schools.

GOVERNOR STONE

Will Probably Head Democratic Notification Committee

Los Angeles, Cal, Aug 3 Senator White, the chairman of the notification committee appointed by the Democratic National Convention, will be unable to attend the notification of Bryan and Sewall in New York on Aug 12 The Senator has, however, completed the official notification and forwarded it east, where it will be signed by members of the committee, The presentation of the notice would naturally, in the absence of Senator White, fall on Senator Daniel, the temporary chairman but the Virginian is absent in Europe, so Governor Stone, of Missouri, will probably head the committee.

LABOR MATTERS

Amalgamation of Glass Workers' Unions to be Proposed

Chicago, Aug. 3 A special from Elwood, Ind, says It is given out that in a few days there will be a call issued for a meeting of the Window, Flint and Glass Workers' Unions to take steps to at once form an amalgamation under one national head, each branch to preserve its distinct existence, but under the control of the national committee made up of representatives of each branch. This would make the 20,000 membership of skilled workmen work unitedly on any subject affecting any branch of the amalgamation, and as each branch now has about $200,000 in the treasury it would afford ample backing and insure the success of the undertaking, which is one of the most gigantic ever conceived in the domains of union labor

WYOMING FOR McKINLEY.

Senator Warren Says the State is Republican.

Omaha Neb Aug 3—Senator F E Warren of Wyoming passed through Omaha yesterday In an interview the senator said

A majority of the people of Wyoming are silver men regardless of what party they belong to but the Republicans of Wyoming are Republicans first. Senator Wolcott expressed the position of the Republicans of my state in his address of yesterday as well as it could be said

While they are for free coinage the Republicans of Wyoming realize there are other issues at stake in this campaign which are vital to the prosperity of the country For instance, Wyoming is a great sheep raising state and the policy of free wool has been ruinous to that industry Above all the general sentiment of the Republicans of my state is that in spite of the Democratic platform and the protestations of its candidates the Republican party is after all the best friend of silver and if it is ever recognized at the mints of the country again it will be through the medium of the Republican party

There have been no defections from the party of prominent workers at least There are always some changes noted in presidential years but the working force of the party has remained intact for the reasons stated What isolated defections there are have been made up by accessions from the other parties and we anticipate that McKinley will carry Wyoming by fully the usual party majority if not a little more

POPULISTIC BLUSTER

Bishop Newman "Challenged" by One Washburn

Boston Aug 3—George F Washburn of this city eastern member of the national executive committee of the People's party today issued the following challenge to Bishop John Newman

Bishop Newman San Francisco Cal

Dear Sir—The press reports of last week credit you with the statement that the Populists are no better than anarchists and not a good American citizens and that you would urge the 1 000 ministers in your home conference to ... their influence on the pulpit and out against the triumph of Bryan and Sewall and the election of a silver congress

Now sir I belong to the party you insult and brand your alleged statements as false and unfair and challenge you to name a single Populist in this country who is also known as an anarchist I am ... a leading member of the church you represent If I am not a good American citizen how can I ask you ... my influence and money still wait in your church If you ... ... than you are in your political ... ... have any confidence in ... I agree with the prominent Catholic who said he was willing to take his religion from the church but not his politics

Now I hope for the sake of the church we love and the welfare of the country I believe you to let politics alone and ... have ... this monetary question ... You refer to the attitude of our church during the anti-slavery agitation to justify in inciting your ministers to preach politics during the campaign instead of religion. It is occurred to you that the result of this proposal ... may split our church ... as it did at that time?

Let me inform you that 90 per cent of the Populist party are native born American citizens comprising mostly the sturdy farming element which for years the statesmen of both the old parties proudly alluded to as the bone sinew and ... of the country These men are intelligent patriotic and true and to call them anarchists because they have ... to think so ... the result of their thinking will be ...

Again there were ... in our convention who owned their own homes and paid taxes than that of any other political party May I add also that you will find your own people are ... with you politically Every state in ... ... will be carried for Bryan ... without ... ... I ... For the single gold ... and the ... publican party and I defy you to ... one in our ranks as an offset to this

Yours for justice
George F Washburn

Cold-Blooded Logic

She had recovered from the agitation caused by a caterpillar, which had crawled up on her shoulder He had brushed it away, but had not shown a great deal of emotion.

"Ugh!" she exclaimed

"Cold?" he inquired.

"No I was thinking about that caterpillar"

"Haven't you gotten over being scared by them? I should think you'd be kind of used to them by this time"

"As if anybody could get used to them!"

"What is it about a caterpillar that you dislike so much?"

"Oh they are so big and brown"

"They are rather brown,"

"And so furry!"

"Yes, they're pretty furry, too"

They walked on in silence for a time Then he observed:

"Matilda, women are popularly supposed to be inconsistent. I don't think, though, that you are so much so as most of them."

"I'm never inconsistent," was the prompt answer.

"I'm glad of it. You said you dislike a caterpillar because it is big and brown and furry."

"I did. And I fail to see why you should expect me to take it back."

"I don't expect you to take it back. I was just thinking that according to what you have said you won't want any sealskin sack next winter, because a sealskin sack is ever so much bigger and browner and furrier than any caterpillar that ever ... Matilda, it takes a ..."

RUNNING FOR BOYS

Every Boy Can Become a Runner if He Tries, and All Should Try

Every American boy should learn to run In Greece in the days when men and women took better care of their bodies than they ever have since every boy and girl, too was taught to run, just as the American child is taught to read And as far as we can judge by the statues they have left behind them there were very few hollow chested spindle legged boys among the Greeks The Persian boy was taught to speak the truth run, ride and shoot the bow

The English boy is encouraged to run In fact at some of the great English public schools boys of 13 and 14 years of age, like Tom Brown and East at Rugby can cover six and eight miles cross country in the great hare and hound runs Every boy is turned out twice a week out of doors and made to run and fill himself full of pure, fresh air and sunshine and gain more strength and life than any amount of weight pulling or dumbbell work in stuffy gymnasiums would give him See the result—the English boys as a whole, are a stronger set than we American boys. Every English schoolboy is to some extent an athlete And that is what American boys should be Not because football, baseball and tennis are valuable in them selves but for the good they do in strengthening boys bodies

By playing ball every day for hours in the open air by exercising his arms, back and leg muscles in throwing batting, running and sliding by going to bed early and giving up all bad habits in preparation for the games a boy stores up strength which he can draw on all his life long That is why every boy should be an athlete But not every boy can play football or baseball He may not be heavy or strong enough he may never be able to acquire the knack of catching or batting the ball Every boy can become a runner —S Scoville Jr in St Nicholas

A Heroine of Chile

During the rebellion in Chile one young girl had the chance of distinguishing herself at a moment of danger and hesitated not an instant in embracing it This was the daughter of John Claudio Vicuna, and her father thus described the story of her heroism to the author of Dark Days in Chile

One evening at 6 o'clock during my absence my daughter was writing some letters for me at a table Suddenly she heard a crash of broken glass followed by a loud explosion at the street end of the room and there had been so much bomb work of late that instinctively she guessed what had happened

Before she could collect herself sufficiently to rush for the door a second bomb was hurled in and rolled almost to her feet providentially without exploding This she picked up and threw from the other window into the court below Then seeing that some brown paper was smoldering in a half open box of rifle cartridges she quickly dashed a large jug of water over it

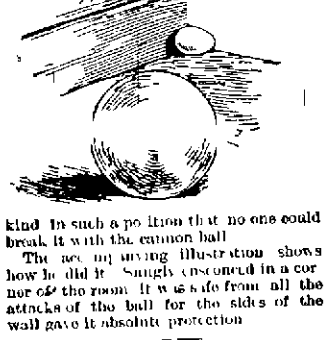

By this time the servants had rushed in and succeeded in extinguishing the fire, which had caught the curtains and furniture

But my brave girl remembering that I had gone out unarmed took my revolver and started out as to meet me on my way home and it was not until I had been provided with the weapon that she told me what had happened

An Egg and a Cannon Ball

A certain magician held up before his audience an egg and a cannon ball, and after expatiating on the strength of a perfect arch and still more of a perfect dome remarked that few people know how strong an egg is

In proof of that he said that he purposed placing the egg without covering of any kind in such a position that no one could break it with the cannon ball

The accompanying illustration shows how he did it Snugly ensconced in a corner of the room It was safe from all the attacks of the ball for the sides of the wall gave it absolute protection

Things to Discover

Faces of pinks sweet and rare,
Cheeks of apple rosy
Eyes of potatoes lying there cozy
In Mother Earth's bed cozy
Ears of the corn close listening
To the gossip of the breeze—
Say little men and women
Have you ever thought of these?

Hands on plants in cabbage tribe
Curly heads and red lips to see,
Necks among the summer squashes
A bit crooked it is true
Hands where the wild grapevines clamber,
Clinging to the old stone wall—
Say my little men and women
Have you thought about them all?

Tempers in the pepper people
Tears when the onion folks are near
Dainty bonnets on the strawberries
Skin up on the russet pear
Now then little men and women
See what boys can discover
Put your glasses on and find them
Wonders all the wide world over

An Unruffled Temper.

One day a boy who was taking his first lesson in the art of sliding down hill found his foot in too close contact with a lady's silk dress Mortified and confused he sprang from his sled, and cap in hand commenced an apology

"I beg you pardon, ma am I am very sorry"

"Never mind that" exclaimed the lady "There is no great harm done, and you feel worse about it than I do"

"But your dress is ruined I thought you would be angry with me for being so careless"

"Oh no" she replied "Better to have a soiled dress than a ruffled temper"

"Oh isn't she a beauty!" exclaimed the lad as the lady passed on

"Who that lady?" returned his comrade "If you call her a beauty, you shan't choose for me. Why she is old, and her face is wrinkled"

"I don't care if her face is wrinkled," replied the other Her soul is handsome anyhow"

A shout of laughter followed, from which he was glad to escape. Relating the incident to his mother, he said "Oh, mother that lady did me good. I shall never forget it and when I am tempted to get mad I will think of what she said, Better to have a soiled dress than a ruffled temper"—Ladies' Every Saturday

CITY AND VICINITY.

The merry go-round at Green's Landing did such a fine business the selectmen wouldn't renew the license The people were infatuated and the nickles that went out of town along with the machine were many

A man who makes his home at a farmhouse in Dover has built up quite an industry in spruce gum Since he started in business he has disposed of about 4000 boxes As each box contains 250 pieces the whole number would foot up to 1,000,000 chews, which calls for a vast amount of jaw-wagging His product has an increasing sale, and although a larger part of it is purchased by Maine patrons it has been introduced and is meeting with much favor in other New England States and the far West where much of it has been sent He buys his gum during the winter and spring months from parties who make a business of harvesting it from our northern spruce forests and last year used a ton in its crude state This is all cleaned, melted and moulded into strips, which, after cooling are cut into pieces and carefully wrapped in tissue paper

There are blueberry patches in Maine where one isn't likely to meet with an adventure similar to that related by a Mr Goodale, of Willimantic "I went after blueberries one fine day he says "Not finding many on the mountain I sauntered down to a level boggy place where I found them plentiful I went to picking and didn't pay much attention to what was going on in that vicinity until I heard a tremendous puffing and snorting on my right hand Looking that way I saw a big moose making directly towards me with evident unfriendly intentions I dropped everything and began to take an interest in lively travel, myself I didn't attempt any tacking to shorten the distance for the moose but made it a bee line stern chase He gained on me so fast it didn't seem of much use to run but I kept at it just the same I came to a shelf of ledge where it dropped down pretty straight for a dozen feet I slid over that and thought I had got one the better of my pursuer but gracious he got down there easier than I did, a good deal and kept his eye on me all the time The space between us was now tremendously short A friendly growth of low spruces with limbs not more than three feet from the ground happened to be in my road and dropping on my hands and knees I crawled for life I had read that moose would stop for such thick growth wouldn't go through it But that notion's a mistake After I had crawled under there a rod or two I changed my course off to one side This saved my bacon The moose struck that spruce thicket like a cyclone and crashed straight through it going off probably in pursuit of me on the other side I did not follow him, neither did I stop for any more blueberries Next time I go I shall take a rifle along

A Water-Incased Prison Cell

There is on exhibition in Boston a model of a cell for prisoners from which a prisoner would find it practically impossible to attempt to escape without giving an alarm that would bring a guard rushing up to his door before either the lock on the door or the steel tubes of which the cell is composed were broken or even cracked

The protection is not afforded by electricity, although electricity plays a part in the device The chief protective agent is water, which fills every length and every joint in the steel tubes forming the entire cell. The water is maintained in the tubes at a certain pressure, indicated on a gauge in the watchman's room, and the slightest decrease in pressure of this water, such as would be made by the cracking of a tube, so that no more than a cubic inch of water would escape, would release the pointer on the gauge allowing it to turn slightly and thus make, an electric connection with an electric bell The bell then rings continuously until the circuit is broken by the watchman. At the same time that the bell rings on the annunciator above is shown the number of the cell where the water is escaping from the tube.

Unlike the modern cells that are made with solid steel bars, the floors and the ceiling do not have to be made of steel plates—through which the criminal can often cut his way or on which his movements in the cell keep up a continuous noise sufficient to make the cellroom too noisy for the watchman to hear the light sound of a saw or an auger in a particular cell. This new cell is a cage. The sides, floor, ceiling and door are all made of steel tubes set so closely together that they could not be sprung apart to any advantage. Even the hinges and the bolt on the door are filled with water, always ready to give the alarm if its pressure is changed in the slightest degree, yet inclosed in such a manner that the prisoner cannot make any attempt to break or cut his way out of the cell without changing the pressure.—[Philadelphia Evening News.]

Harper's Weekly IN 1896.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is a journal for the whole country. It deals with the events of the world that are important to Americans.

In carrying out this policy, in 1895, Julian Ralph visited China and Japan, and journeyed through the West; Richard Harding Davis took a trip through the Caribbean Sea; the evolutions of the new navy were described and illustrated by Rufus F. Zogbaum; Frederic Remington presented studies of Army and Frontier life; Poultney Bigelow attended the opening of the Kiel Canal.

In 1896 like attention will be given to every notable happening. The chief events in art, literature and music and the drama will be artistically presented. W. D. Howells, in the new department, Life and Letters, will discuss in his interesting way books and the social questions of the time. E. S. Martin's sprightly gossip of the Busy World will be continued. The progress of the Transportation Commission around the World will be followed, and Caspar W. Whitney will conduct the department of Amateur Sport.

In 1896 will occur a Presidential election. In its editorials and through its political cartoons the WEEKLY will continue to be an independent advocate of good government and sound money.

In fiction the WEEKLY will be especially strong. It will publish the only novel of the year by W. D. Howells, and a stirring serial of a Scotch feud, by S. R. Crockett. The short stories selected are of unusual excellence and interest. In every respect HARPER'S WEEKLY will maintain its leading place in the illustrated journalism of the world.

The Volumes of the WEEKLY begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Work of Crooks.

The crooks who always congregate in crowded places did a few jobs yesterday, but considering the crowd the number of cases was remarkably small, as far as reported. M. a woman on the train informed a physician from Northern Maine that his pocket had been picked and Patrolman Mackie, who had been called to a disturbance further up Exchange street, investigated the case as soon as possible. The thief could not be found at that time, but in the evening a telegram received here from up the line of the Bangor and Aroostook railroad, stated that a pocket book containing $40 had been found in one of the cars of the excursion train. It is supposed that it is the doctor's property and that it had been dropped after being picked from his pocket.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The educational work for the fall and winter season will soon be well formulated and will present to the young men of the city's most opportune course of evening elementary study. Every young man should see to it that he gets an announcement circular regarding this department, and that he finds some study in the curriculum that will be profitable for him to take up.

The Year Book of the International Committee for 1896 is just from the press. It has full statistical reports from all the associations, and a brief statement regarding the work of the international committee. There is a summary of the work for 1895 compared with 1894, which shows a healthy growth in every department.

There are now 1,448 associations with an aggregate membership of 263,298, of whom 37,823 are serving on committees. The number of secretaries and other paid agents has increased from 1,159 to 1,249, with 63 vacancies to be filled. There are 315 association buildings (an increase of 10 during the year) valued with other real estate owned by the associations at $18,189,300. The annual amount received for current expenses of the local associations and the international and State committees for the year amounted to $2,503,170.

The international committee expended $65,306 on the home department and $20,995 on the foreign department, and closed the year free of debt; 25,886 different young men attended the educational classes, an increase of over 2,000. Employment was secured for 9,450 young men. There has been an increased attendance during the year at both the Bible classes and the young men's meetings of the association.

Association Hand Book: "The question of endowment is to be intimately connected in the future with the stability and efficiency of the Associations. No extended work of this character can be supported by the fees of a bona fide membership. There is too great a disparity between the privileges offered and the price paid for them. An attempt might as well be made to conduct a college with no income except the tuition fees of the students. A portion of the needed income is readily secured from the members; a certain amount may also be obtained from the public by subscriptions; but great harm results from too heavy a financial burden of this description. The energy needed in the real work of the organization is absorbed in its business affairs, while the constant financial pressure wears out the interest of the members, discourages the management, and affects the welfare of the community. The remedy for this is to be found only in a partial endowment."

A GREAT SHOW

Is Barnum & Bailey's Big Canvas Exhibition.

Excellent Menagerie and Fine Ring Performance.

The Barnum & Bailey circus which gave two exhibitions in this city Monday, afternoon and evening, before great crowds of people, is a mammoth show, combining a large and choice menagerie and Oriental entertainment with a splendid ring and aerial performance.

Circus day was ushered in with the customary street parade. This feature was an elaborate one. It included a long line of handsome wagons, with open dens of wild beasts, allegorical chariots and riders representing different nations, handsomely uniformed, sleek beautiful horses, smartly playing bands of music, etc., etc., everything having some sort of interest attached to it. The famous horseless carriage was an object of special prominence.

The parade occurred early in the forenoon and was witnessed by great crowds of people all along the line, who felt confident that the promise of the parade would be fulfilled in a splendid show and performance at the huge tents at Maplewood. These canvas coverings are the biggest the circus has ever had and are monsters.

There probably never was a more successful circus day in Bangor than yesterday. In the first place the weather was perfect, crowds of people came to the city, the circus tents were full of people and no accidents of any account occurred. There were a few cases of pocket picking, but that is always to be expected in such crowds. Barnum & Bailey have a special detective who keeps an eye on sharpers and discourages pocket picking to a very large extent.

People began coming to town early in the morning by railroad, electric cars, team and steamboat, and several excursion parties came by the latter means of conveyance. One large one came from Belfast, it being arranged by the Belfast Band. There were thousands of visitors from away during the day.

Chief of Police Gilman and his efficient officers performed excellent service in keeping things moving in an orderly manner. It was a well behaved crowd and no thing occurred to mar the success of circus day, which is always an occasion very pleasantly looked forward to, especially when Barnum and Bailey's show is the attraction.

Early in the afternoon crowds of people began to wend their way to Maplewood for the afternoon performance, which was attended by about 11,000 people. The menagerie was first visited and attracted a large measure of the attention of the people. It contains many rare and interesting specimens of animal life, wild and domestic, together with freaks of nature.

Miss Johanna, the gorilla, almost human, attracted much attention, while the big giraffe, Fritz and Mandann, the enormous elephants, the rhinoceros, the hippopotamus, bears, leopards, hyenas, tapir, horned horse, hairless horse, three horned and three nostriled ox and many other specimens were viewed with great interest and as long as possible.

Passing into the huge tent containing three rings the thousands of spectators were highly entertained by the performances, which began in the afternoon at 2 and in the evening at 8. There was the proverbial sea of faces and the attendance in the evening was almost as large as in the afternoon. This circus never had a larger attendance in Bangor than on yesterday.

For over two hours the people saw as fine a galaxy of performers as ever entered a ring and there are many of them, the three rings being almost constantly occupied in addition to a platform for still other circus artists. Probably the most wonderful feature was that of 51 horses in charge of the celebrated John O'Brien performing in a ring at one time. It is one of the greatest equine acts ever successfully attempted. There are fifty-one trained horses forming in concentric rings a most wonderful living pyramid with one horse and rider at the apex, presenting a most beautiful scene, with all the horses, in elegant and costly trappings, massed in the arena, prancing on the base of the pedestal, trotting on top of the ring border, standing on the summit and moving in opposite concentric circles.

Many other feats are worthy of special mention.

W. Conrod put his troupe of eight baby elephants through a course of new tricks that delighted the audience and a dozen maidens gave a novel exhibition of the new woman, another new feature of circus entertainment. In her bare back equestrian act, Rose Wentworth rides the horse "Duge," once ridden by John Stetson's wife. Kate Stokes, when she was in the ring.

Gus Downes does a fine juggle act and Professor Collier exhibits the only trained bull in existence. Charles White gave some highly interesting entertainment with his troupe of trained goats.

William Showles, the famous bare-back rider, contributed daring feats, while Laverter Lee turned a backward somersault, and a full knee pirouette, while his horse is at a full gallop around the ring.

A special number of the programme is the acting of Zedoras, a trio of aerial artists, in which Alar, known as the human arrow, is shot twenty-seven feet through space, and penetrating a paper target, to be caught by another performer swinging on a trapeze.

Everybody would like to know how Leon LaRoche, after enclosing himself in a tin globe, rolls himself to the top of a spiral incline. There is no visible means of locomotion, and when he reaches the apex he discharges a revolver and waves old glory. It is a great act.

Other novel performers are Miss Nicie Read, Countess Manrovich—who displays great influence over spirited horses. Miss Pauline Newsanne and the Silbars and Dunbars, the two families of aerial artists, and many other performances which deserve individual mention. It is a complete show throughout.

Republican Club Address.

Prof. A. E. Rogers, of the Maine State College, will address the Eastern Maine Republican Club upon the currency question this evening at the club's rooms in West Market square. After the address Prof. Rogers will answer any questions which may be asked. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia, succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at ... Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

REPUBLICAN CLUB FORMED.

A Fine Meeting at Sherman Mills Addressed by Hon. L. Powers.

Our Sherman Mills correspondent writes: A Republican honest money campaign club was organized in this village Saturday evening last with the following officers: Isaac Cushman, president; L. E. Jackman, secretary and treasurer; L. C. Caldwell, A. Cushman, E. Gillespie, vice presidents.

After the organization Hon. Llewellyn Powers addressed the meeting of some two hundred people who had gathered at a very short notice to hear the next Governor of Maine. The address was an hour and a half in length and no one thought of being weary but were held to the closest attention by the eloquent words of the speaker.

His truthful portrayal of the history of money in this country, his candid, convincing reasoning, showing the effect to be expected of free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 with gold, and his vivid description of the blighting effects of Democratic rule, especially in relation to tariff legislation, showing its effect upon wage earners, held the audience spell-bound.

Said a Massachusetts gentleman who was present; "I was very much surprised that Mr. Powers is so able a speaker. I have heard many men of national fame speak who were no match for Mr. Powers, in logic and force of convincing argument."

One pleasing incident of the meeting was the fact that several gentlemen were present from Benedicta, who after the speech, pressed Mr. Powers to give them a speech in Benedicta, which he promised to do.

Several who have been former Democrats came forward voluntarily and signed as members of the club, and more will follow. We hope to have a club of at least one hundred and fifty members.

The early opening of the ball in Sherman was an impromptu affair of only four or five hours' notice, which shows that with proper notice the people will turn out in force. Never were the masses more in earnest to know the issues of a campaign than now in this town. Education on the questions of tariff and finance is what the people want, and with that there is no fear of the result in State or national elections.

Third Party Convention.

The Third Party county convention was held at banquet hall, City Building yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock with a small attendance. Mr. George H. Fox, of Bangor, was chairman. The following nominations were made:

Senators—George H. Fox, of Bangor, and P. J. Abbott, of Dexter; Frank C. Turner, of Hampden.

Sheriff—Charles W. Wilson, of Bangor.

Judge of Probate—B. W. Abbott, of Plymouth.

County Attorney—H. O. Howes, of Charleston.

County Treasurer—J. B. Cole of Kenduskeag.

County Commissioner—Allen Carter, of Hampden.

County Committee, (re-appointed) A. P. Richardson, Bangor; F. C. Turner, of Hampden; B. W. Abbott, of Plymouth; Stark Webster, of Mattawamkeag; Thomas M. Dean, of Orono.

Rev. A. S. Ladd, of Calais, candidate for Governor, made some remarks at the close of the business.

The national and State platforms were verbally endorsed.

At a caucus held before the convention Willis Torrens, W. J. Weatherbee and James A. Craft were nominated as candidates for representatives to the Legislature.

Base Ball.

The Bangors go to Augusta today to play the Augustas one game. They will then play the Lewistons and Portlands, after which they come home and play the Lewistons and Portlands. Play ball all the time, boys.

Boston Herald: Maine is not only pitching strongly for Bangor, but is hitting the ball for keeps.

All Brockton will turn out to-day to see if its pets can repeat the feat of the Fall River champions in defeating the Boston leaguers. The New England leaguers are likely to make a great showing.

Yerrick has been released by Wilkesbarre.

Lewiston has hired fewer pitchers than any other team in the league.

Breckinridge has a batting average of .390, Nadeau .350, Buelow .405, Shea .313. The rest of the Brockton players are under .300.

Lewiston Journal: Mr. Tyler doesn't have the ear marks of an umpire, but he may do, in spite of the fears of the populace. He has a frightened, bird-like way with him that augurs trouble for Mr. Tyler. If he has any fighting blood in him, however, we'll stand by him. Rah, biss, boom for Tippecanoe and Tyler too.

Lewiston would like to engage Mr. Magoon to play second bag.

Duncan is a find for Portland, but they miss Uncle Slater. There was talk of playing Ed Flannagan. Lewiston's mistake was in vesting him with authority.

Sharrott has stolen 35 bases.

Geier has a batting percentage of .374.

Kelley, of Augusta, has struck out once in 17 games.

Paul Radford has made 18 hits in 7 games.

"Kinkly" Klobedanz, the Brockton Times calls him.

Pawtucket is knocking a few calculations in the head nowadays.

Buelow, of Brockton, has made 19 hits with a total of 19 in five games.

"Jake" Weihl and Capt. Smith of Pawtucket have made their 100th hits.

Manager Smith of the Pawtuckets stands second in the league in batting.

Henry is the third member of the Bangor team to reach a century in hits.

Joe Harrington will undoubtedly accept the terms offered by Portland.

Pitcher Knorr, late of Providence, has signed with Pawtucket. According to accounts he is a good man.

While in Maine, "Billy" Nash of the Phillies asked Lajoie what kind of a ball puzzled him most, and he answered: "The ones I can't reach."

Hanolvan actually defeated New Bedford by robbing the cowboys out of base hits with his wonderful fielding. There's an infielder for you.—New Bedford Journal.

Lajoie certainly deserves all the good things said of him, judging from yesterday's game. He is a great runner, covers a big territory and his batting speaks for itself.—Brockton Times.

Pawtucket has now four pitchers not counting Smith. They are Horner, Lincoln, Herr and Knorr. The club is scheduled to play 15 games at home out of 18, and proposes to make the fur fly.

Boston Herald: Mr. Harry Weldon of the Cincinnati Enquirer may think it great fun to poke ridicule at the New England league because Paul Radford is putting up great ball just now. It is true all the same that he is doing better work than one man making a sorry failure of the position in the National league. Cincinnati is having a little luck this year and cannot stand the attendant prosperity.

Great sales prove the great merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and great merit enables it to accomplish wonderful cures.

THE MUSIC GRINDER'S AMBITION.

He Wants to Earn Enough to Enable Him to Live In Italy.

There are 65 street pianos and two or three large band organs on the streets of Washington each day, and it is estimated that about $720 is paid each week by residents of the city for the privilege of being entertained. All the instruments are owned and managed by Italians, who travel, as a general rule, in pairs. These people reside in two portions of the city. One small colony is situated south of the capitol, and the other, which is the larger, on D, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets. It is at these places that the genuine low class Italian life can be seen. The latter locality has been named "Little Italy." There are only eight or ten habitable houses on the square, but in these live at least 100 Italians. Many of them are engaged in pursuits other than that of "grindin de org," and a few sell fruit and perform manual labor on the streets.

The business of an Italian street piano player is remunerative. It is a bad manager, indeed, who is unable to glean at least $1.50 a day, and the receipts often aggregate $3 and $4 a day. This, when taking into consideration the fact that the pianos are procurable at a comparatively low price—$145—and that it is necessary to purchase a new one only once each year, is very profitable, especially to a class of persons who, in their native country, consider themselves well to do if they are able to earn 40 or 50 cents a day.

The Italian organ grinder is an interesting being. He is industrious, enterprising, frugal and, above all, law abiding. His life is simple to a remarkable degree, but does not reach the point of self denial. He is very little given to dissipation, and his earnings, for the most part, are placed away safely, where they may be used in the future to bring him comfort in his native land. He is at all times looking for the "main chance," and never loses an opportunity to earn the small boy's and little girl's penny.

Germany, Switzerland and France, owing to their close proximity to Italy, are the most attractive countries to emigrants from Italy, but the United States by no means loses its share of them.

A remarkably large number of them land on the shores of this country, but 50 per cent of them do not remain. Their ulterior object is to amass a sufficiently large amount of money to enable them to return to Italy and spend the remainder of their lives in comfort and without labor. This is especially the case with the street piano players. It is seldom that any one of them remains here longer than six or seven years.

Their mode of living here is very cheap. Their dress is neglected almost to the point of repulsiveness, and their table is meager. Macaroni and spaghetti, it is true, have their charms for them, but it is seldom indeed that these two products of the sunny country are found on their tables. The expense is too great, they say, and it is only on special occasions that the two dishes are eaten. Their main means of sustenance consists of boiled beef and bread, with a small quantity of beer occasionally. Any one who visits an Italian pianist's house can find, at any time a quantity of beef, which boils incessantly. This forms a dish somewhat in the nature of a broth, and, together with a small portion of the beef, is eaten with a great deal of satisfaction. The expense is somewhere in the neighborhood of 10 cents a day, and the cost of living after this fashion does not exceed 25 cents a day.

The musician's labors begin quite early and end late. At 8 o'clock they are upon the street, all traveling in different directions. The instruments are not housed until 9 at night, when the time limit prescribed by law expires. During this period there is very little rest. Not a little time is consumed in wheeling the pianos from place to place, which is no easy task.

There is an agreement between the organ grinders as to the route to be pursued by each one. To each piano is allotted a certain territory, and the pianist is warned not to trespass upon the preserves of his fellow "musician." Occasionally an infraction of this understanding occurs. The down town districts, however, are free from restriction, and each piano player is allowed full swing in any street he desires. There are no regular rates, but a 5 cent piece generally warrants the playing of about ten selections.—Washington Star.

WRONG AND RIGHT EATING.

ONE MAKES US WEAK, THE OTHER MAKES US STRONG.

Wrong eating makes us weak, because it doesn't nourish us. It poisons us, because it sets up poisonous fermentation in our stomach and the poison goes into our blood.

Wrong eating is eating improper food, or eating more than our stomach is able to digest.

Right eating is eating digestible food, food that the stomach is able to digest, food that will nourish you when digested.

Right eating strengthens and invigorates the body, gives energy and restores weight and restores health.

Wrong eating can be made right by taking the Shaker Digestive Cordial. This preparation, made by the Shakers from simple herbs, roots and wine, is delicious, refreshing, and strengthening to the body. It ... digestion.
